

Skills Development Program

Funding application guide

If you are an employer in the Pacific Australia Labour Mobility (PALM) scheme, you can apply for funding support for worker skills development.

The following information can be used to help you complete the application form found on the PALM scheme website.

You can also request an application form by emailing (PALMCapability@dewr.gov.au).

Please ensure you complete the entire form.

Once completed, please send your application form back to (PALMCapability@dewr.gov.au).

For more detailed information on the skills development program, visit the skills development page on the PALM scheme website, or read the frequently asked questions.

How does the training help your business and workers?

Completed applications will be processed and assessed against the following 3 training objectives:

- the training delivers benefits for your business
- the training delivers benefits for PALM scheme workers
- the training demonstrates value for money.

The application form is designed to show how the identified training aligns with and addresses your workforce development needs. If your business has a workforce development plan, you may wish to include the relevant sections with your application.

You will also need to show how the training will support the workers in their current role and how it will assist them upon return to their home country.

Finally, you will need to demonstrate the value-for-money proposition for training at tier 3 and above.

Please see below an example of how to fill out the relevant sections of the funding application form. If you require further assistance, contact (PALMCapability@dewr.gov.au).
